

Individual Donor

Your Support Fuels the Power of Indigenous Storytelling

IndiJ Public Media appreciates every contribution from Individual Donors that empowers Indigenous journalism. With recurring or one-time donations of $5-$500+ your generosity supports our commitment to providing free, accessible news impacting the Indigenous world.

Local Indigenous Journalism Initiative

An investment in IndiJ Public Media & ICT news is an investment in our Local Indigenous Journalism Initiative and the following three strategies for growth and advancement:

- Broadcast Excellence - Elevating our newscast to match network standards, with investments in multimedia technology and additional staff, to meet our audience where they are, gain new viewers, and expand Indigenous programming.
- Compelling Storytelling - Invest in multimedia journalism and add additional regional bureaus so we can continue to report on Indigenous news from across the US.
- The Next Generation - Creating a place for young Indigenous journalists to tell their stories and give them the grounding to one day lead this organization and other news outlets.

CONTACT

Thank you for your interest in amplifying Indigenous voices by supporting IndiJ Public Media and ICT news.

Haley Martinez | Donor Relations Director | Haley@ictnews.org | 402-770-2081
Riley Mowatt | Development Specialist | Riley@ictnews.org | 580-647-3201
P.O.Box 929, Phoenix, AZ 85001
indijpublicmedia.org | ictnews.org